Moteslaver (Bag of Fun) by Leslie Stella

Leslie Stella

Translated from English to Norwegian by way of Unni Rom Stueland. Oversatt fra engelsk til norsk av Unni Rom Stueland. Lisa Galisa slaver som butikkekspiditrise Moteslaver (Bag of Fun) i klesavdelingen i et stormagasin. En dag blir hun tilfeldigvis likner på Maria Callas. I noen hektiske temauker får Lisa prøve seg som modell, og gjør så stor lykke at hun blir tilbudt jobben som personlig assistent for en trendsettende motediva. Da Lisa oppdager at de verste moteløvene i virkeligheten er noen usikre lam som villig lar seg lede, bestemmer hun seg for å teste hvor letturte de er. Snart har Lisa lansert en new york trend, og "easy-stilen" slår an som en bombe.

Southside born and raised Lisa Galisa sells sports clothing at Chicago's Fishman's division Store, her retail lifestyles slightly extra formidable than goals of incomes the coveted brown senior salesclerk identify tag and portraying Maria Callas as a part of a storewide Greek Islands advertising and marketing theme. whilst Lisa is helping her Moteslaver (Bag of Fun) buddy Fred release a favored retro-themed membership night—the effortless Hour—in a neighborhood Bridgeport tavern, her direction crosses that of notorious socialite Honey Dietrich and he or she will get the opportunity to turn into her own assistant. quickly Lisa—when now not confiding in homosexual ally Tim Gideon—is spending her time making plans a simple Christmas celebration for Chicago's elite, and falling in love with Ray Fuchet, schoolteacher/Fishman's part-time janitor and Aristotle Onassis to her Callas. Has Lisa eventually come into her own? Can she convey her effortless Moteslaver (Bag of Fun) sort to excessive society Chicago? Stella's moment novel is a witty, sharp tale of 1 girl's probability to climb a bit higher, albeit along with her offbeat friends and family in tow. Readers who get pleasure from style or a lively, clever, light-hearted tale with funny woman characters and greater than a bit irony should still take note.
